

Feminist Studies Association Book Prize 2019 and 2020

Nomination form

The FSA Book Prize sponsored by Emerald Publishing recognises scholarship which is innovative, interdisciplinary and grounded in feminist theory and practice. Founded in 2009, the prize has been awarded to world-leading research in scholarship in the fields of feminist, gender, or women's studies. We welcome entries from across a range of disciplines and specialisms in sciences or humanities. The prize is intended to recognise scholarship which is innovative, interdisciplinary and grounded in feminist theory and practice.

The FSA annual book prize is sponsored by Emerald Publishing. For over 50 years Emerald Publishing has been helping academics and practitioners work together to make a positive change in the world. We know the importance of fresh thinking and diverse voices in creating impactful research and are proud to sponsor the FSA annual book prize.

Following a one-year hiatus we are pleased to relaunch the prize and offer two prizes, one for 2019 and one for 2020. An award of £250 will be presented to the winner of the 2019 prize and the 2020 prize.

Please provide the following information and complete the eligibility check list:

Award being entered for (please tick)

2019 (book published between January 1st 2018 and December 31st 2018)

2020 (book published between January 1st 2019 and December 31st 2019)

Book details

Title of book: _____

Author: _____

Publisher: _____

Date of publication: _____

ISBN: _____

Please say why this book is being nominated (its contribution, format, innovation etc)

(150 words max): _____

Five key words: _____

Author details

Full Name: _____

Affiliation _____

Address: _____

Email: _____

Nominator details (if different from those of author)

Full Name: _____

Affiliation _____

Address: _____

Email: _____

Signature of nominator: _____ date _____

Please read the following information and then complete the eligibility check list:

The competition is open to scholars who were employed at, formerly associated with, or a postgraduate student at a British or Irish University or research organisation, between January 1st 2015 and December 31st 2019. Nominated books must be monographs or textbooks and published in English. We welcome single or co-authored contributions. Edited collections and reprints of earlier editions are not eligible.

For the 2019 award, books must be first published between January 1st 2018 and December 31st 2018; they do not need to have a UK publisher. For the 2020 award, books must be first published between January 1st 2019 and December 31st 2019; they do not need to have a UK publisher.

- | | Please circle
Yes / No |
|---|---------------------------|
| 1. Does this book engage with feminist theory and practice? | Yes / No |
| 2. Is this a monograph or text book? | Yes / No |
| 3. Has this book been first published within the stated publication dates? | Yes / No |
| 4. Is the author associated with a British or Irish University, as defined in the criteria? | Yes / No |
| 5. Have you provided contact details for the author and details of the book? | Yes / No |
| 6. Have you included 3 copies of the book? | Yes / No |
-

Complete this form and return it with 3 copies of the nominated book by no later than Friday 4th December 2020 to:

22 Adderley Road
Leicester
LE2 1WA
England

Please Note: *Gratis copies can be requested from a publisher for entry into competitions. E-books are accepted, but print is preferred. The judges' decision is final. No correspondence will be entered into.

Winning authors will be informed in June 2021.